

James Giles & Sons Ltd – Bromsgrove

Our premises were open on Sat 8th November between 10 am and 2 pm for the above and also to open our newly refurbished premises. We had invited local clergy, doctors, registrars, nursing homes etc and also advertised in the local press for the public.

A fairly good turnout with about 60 people attending (mostly invited) and our premises was opened by Julie Kirkbride MP, and our two new chapels were consecrated by members of the local clergy. Members of our staff were on hand to show people the processes involved in arranging a funeral, making coffins etc and we also had a horse and carriage here for people to see. Gerry Cartwright, Golden Charter, attended and we have had several enquiries about plans following the occasion.

Our photos were not too good, but have attached one of our staff (I was on holiday!) and one showing the MP and a member of our staff cutting the ribbon (Neil Brighton), and one showing our crowded reception area.
